Andrew proposed having a separate novice meeting before each event, which can be added after the novice walk-through to re-emphasize the rules about cones, penalties, etc. Richard disagreed because he says that not all novices attend the novice walk-through. Several ideas were mentioned and Richard agreed to re-iterate those points to the novices. It was also suggested that some of the more experienced workers go around to all the workstations to make sure the novices know what they're doing. The topic remains open to discussion.
